

Creating Custom Errors From Homepage

in GradeRight

From Login Page Click on “Errors”

The screenshot shows the GradeRight website interface. At the top left is the GradeRight logo. A navigation menu contains links for Home, Download, Courses, Classes, Assignment, ManageStudents, Papers, Errors, and Reports. The date 'Friday, December 16, 2011' is displayed on the left, and 'P Licata Logout' is on the right. A breadcrumb trail shows 'Home'. The main content area features a 'Welcome to GradeRight' heading, a sub-heading 'a product of Proseproductionsink, llc', and two lines of promotional text. Below this is contact information for 'info@mygraderight.com'. A section for a demonstration video is present but empty. The footer contains copyright information for 2011 and a disclaimer.

The form displays a dropdown menu for the 'Select a Category' field, which is currently open. The dropdown list contains the following options: Punctuation (highlighted), Sentence Structure, Grammar, Pronouns, Verbs, and Instructor Comment. Each input field has a red arrow icon to its right, and the 'Save' and 'Cancel' buttons are underlined.

Assign Point Value for error

0 (zero) can be used to assign no predetermined minus value for the error. All errors of this designation will be totaled in data table at end of paper (the data table can be deleted and does not have to be returned to the student at the evaluator's discretion)
